The Constantinople Ottoman Bank Rioters Surrender.

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE TROUBLE

France Will Hasten Another Warship to the Turkish Capital—No Europeans Injured During the Bloody Scenes at the Bank.

Paris, Aug. 28.—As a result of the attack on the Ottoman bank in Constantinople by rioters on Wednesday last the French government has decided to at once send a gunboat to the Turkish capital, although a dispatch received by the managers of the Ottoman bank here from the directors of the bank at Constantinople says that the rioting is over. Official dispatches received here from Constantinople say that the French chargé d'affaires there has installed a guard of sailors from the French guardship La Fleche, at the French embassy as a measure of precaution. The official dispatches also give a detailed account of the riots. The attack, which took place at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, was made by a score of men armed with revolvers and bombs. When they invaded the bank they killed a number of gendarmes who were on guard. The employees of the bank fled to the quarters occupied by the tobacco syndicate, adjoining the bank. The invaders mounted the roof of the building, and from the open windows fired at the police below. The police returned the fusillade in a vigorous fashion and several persons were killed and wounded. The riot then became general. Shops were sacked and bazaars invaded, and the wildest excitement prevailed throughout certain quarters of Constantinople. The officials of the bank say that none of the staff was injured during the rioting, and that the bank was not robbed. A bomb was exploded in Constantinople near the Galata guard house. Many soldiers were killed and wounded. One report says that there is no doubt that the movement was revolutionary in plan and scope; that it had its origin at the secret meetings of the Hunchegists, an Armenian revolutionary society.

Rioters Surrender. Constantinople, Aug. 28.—The party of rioters, who forced their way into the bank have surrendered and are lodged in prison. No Europeans were injured during the firing.

CHAMBERLAIN'S VISIT.

Said To Be Purely of a Family Affair—Surprise in England.

London, Aug. 28.—The news that Joseph Chamberlain left Liverpool Wednesday for New York came as a complete surprise last night to every one outside of his family circle. An attempt was made in some quarters today to find political reasons for the visit. It was suggested that Ambassador Lanesford before leaving London for Paris intimated that a meeting between the British minister and Secretary Olney might at this moment remove the last vestige of difficulty in the Venezuela affair. Mr. Chamberlain himself intimated that his visit was a purely family affair. He forbade any previous intimation to the press. It is believed, however, that he would not avoid a friendly chat with President Cleveland and Secretary Olney on pending questions. His absence indicates forcibly that the feeling of alarm is completely removed from American and South African affairs.

International Bowling League.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The annual meeting of the International Bowling league will be held at the new headquarters of the Brooklyn club, Friday, September 4, at noon. Since last season the league's circuit has been increased to eight cities, viz., New York, Brooklyn, Syracuse, Buffalo, Newark, Niagara Falls, Paterson and Rochester, all of which will be represented by two delegates at the meeting. The adoption of a constitution and by-laws and schedule of games to be played during the season of 1896 and 1897 will take up most of the delegates' time at the session. President Floss of Buffalo will preside.

Canal Contract Awarded.

Albany, Aug. 28.—Superintendent George W. Aldridge of the state department of public works opened the bids for the first piece of work under the $9,000,000 scheme for the improvement of canals. The bids were for lengthening locks 21 and 22, Erie canal, and for other incidental work. The award was made to Chambers & Casey of Rochester, the lowest bidders, at $96,303.

Jersey Game Laws.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 28.—The game wardens in this vicinity are making strenuous efforts to stop the illegal shooting of rail and reed birds, which this year are included in the closed season until September 1. Until this year the season opened on August 25, and the change is not generally known. The law was changed to conform to the Pennsylvania law.

THE HARRISON MEETING.

Many Prominent Republicans Present at the Carnegie Hall Rally.

New York, Aug. 28.—Carnegie hall was crowded last night with an audience that had gathered to hear ex-President Harrison discuss the issues of the campaign. The occasion was a republican rally, held under the auspices of the republican state committee. Chauncey M. Depew presided and delivered an address, as did president David T. Hill of the Rochester university. A host of republicans of national repute occupied seats on the platform and in the boxes or were scattered about in the body of the house. Among them were vice presidential candidate Garrett A. Hobart, chairman Mark A. Hanna, ex-secretary of state John W. Foster, Gov. Lippitt of Rhode Island and ex-Postmaster General Wamamaker. Mrs. Harrison, wife of the ex-president, was in attendance, and with a party of friends occupied box 61. Ex-Senator Platt, just from the Saratoga convention, was a prominent figure at the meeting. Ex-President Harrison was the principal speaker of the evening and his address was listened to with much interest and his remarks brought forth repeated applause.

BRYAN'S BUFFALO MEETING.

Although Fatigued from Traveling He Participates in a Big Reception.

Buffalo, Aug. 28.—A big reception was extended to William J. Bryan last night. It was in fact continuous from the time he reached the Lake Shore station at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, after a journey of two hours and a half from Erie, marked by no incident of interest, until he escaped from the crowd at midnight and went to bed. Few meetings he has addressed since his nomination was so largely attended as at Music hall, where his principal speech was made. From a political standpoint democrats consider it of the greatest importance, for it was the first meeting held in New York to ratify the nominations of Bryan and Sewall with the sanction, nominal, if not actual, of the state democratic organization, and furthermore it was delivered in the home city of President Cleveland. Mr. Bryan spoke at great length, although husky of voice and tired of body. He explained and defended the Chicago platform and spoke principally on the money question.

Powderly's Choice.

Saratoga, Pa., Aug. 28.—Former grand master workmen of the Knights of Labor Terrence V. Powderly, when asked last evening who he thought would be elected the next president, said: "I have no doubt that McKinley will be elected. I do not doubt Mr. Bryan's ability or sincerity, but his inexperience and his surroundings are such as should cause the elector to ponder carefully over the probable result of intrusting the business management of this industrial national workshop to his care."

Hill Refuses To Discuss a Rumor.

Albany, Aug. 28.—Senator Hill this morning refused to discuss one way or another the report that he has received a letter from Mr. Byrum asking him to accept the presidential nomination to be made by the Indianapolis convention.

Saratoga Gold Democrats.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The gold democrats of this county will hold a convention to-morrow at Ballston to name delegates to the Syracuse convention.

THE CZAR AT VIENNA.

Dined by Emperor Francis Joseph and the Two Monarchs Exchange Courtesies.

Vienna, Aug. 28.—At a dinner at the Hofburg palace last evening Emperor Francis Joseph in proposing a toast to the czar and czarina thanked his imperial visitors for coming to Vienna, which action, his majesty said, furnished a new proof of the friendship which united Russia and Austria. The czar replied, and offered a toast to Emperor Francis Joseph and the empress, thanking them for the reception which had been accorded him and the czarina. At the conclusion of the dinner the imperial party attended a gala performance at the opera. The toilettes and jewels of the ladies and the uniforms and orders of the many officials present made the scene a most brilliant one. During the day the czar gave audience to the Duke of Orleans, head of the house of Bourbon-Orleans.

Spain Not Short of Money.

Madrid, Aug. 28.—The Epoca says that, in consequence of the adoption by the chamber of the bills providing for the farming of the tobacco monopoly and the leasing of the Almaden silver mines, the government has sufficient resources with which to continue the prosecution of the campaign against the insurgents in Cuba. Therefore the raising of a loan has been postponed.

Chicago Ticket Endorsed.

Corning, N. Y., Aug. 28.—The democratic convention of the first assembly district of Steuben endorsed the Chicago platform and nominees. The delegates to the congressional convention are instructed for Henry W. Jones of Bath for congress.

READY TO GREET LI

The Aged Chinese Viceroy Due at New York To-day.

DISPATCH BOAT DOLPHIN IN WAITING

Gen. Rucker, Representing the President, and the Chinese Minister to Washington Will Go Down the Bay To Meet Him.

New York, Aug. 28.—All this morning those having in charge the reception of Li Hung Chang, who is aboard the American line steamer St. Louis, which is due to arrive this afternoon, were very busy individuals, completing the few remaining details. While everything is being carried on in a systematic way, there is beneath the surface considerable suppressed excitement, and this is particularly so among the Chinese merchants and fellow countrymen of Li Hung Chang, who make their headquarters in Chinatown. Down at the office of Consul Sze everything was bustle and confusion. Minister Yang Yu, who arrived from Washington yesterday, was astir early in the morning. He drove to the consul's house, where he met Gen. Rucker, commander of the Department of the East, who will also have absolute charge of all arrangements, naval and military, on the route which Li Hung Chang will take during his stay in this country. Gen. Rucker will utilize the Dolphin to go down the bay and meet the viceroy. He will take with him the Chinese minister to the United States, the consul of this city and his staff, and one or two other eminent countrymen. Consul-General Sze will also be in the party. Ex-Secretary Foster, who was Li Hung's advisor during the peace negotiations with Japan, also called early at the Chinese consul's house to await reporting of the steamer. He will accompany the reception committee. At the Waldorf the quarters engaged for the Chinese statesman and his suite are all in readiness to receive him. They consist of the parlor suite and comprise fifty rooms. The troops and cavaliers who are to escort Li Hung Chang to the hotel after he lands from the steamer, left Fort Hamilton early this morning for this city. If it is decided to take the visitor off the steamer at quarantine, he will probably be landed at the battery or some up town dock, otherwise he will go ashore at the American line pier. From the battery the journey up Broadway would be a magnificent sight for the old viceroy. The programme for his entertainment while here, as previously published in these dispatches, has been somewhat extended. President Cleveland will receive Li Hung Chang at the home of William C. Whitney, Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street, to-morrow. In the evening he will attend a banquet at the Waldorf hotel by New York business men. A visit to the tomb of Gen. Grant is the only event now set for Sunday, while on Monday he will go to West Point on the Dolphin to witness the cadets' manoeuvres. President Cleveland will probably accompany him on this trip. Returning he will review the warships in the harbor. The members of the chamber of commerce will give him a luncheon at the Merchants' club on Tuesday, and in the evening his own countrymen will give him a dinner at Delmonico's. In the afternoon, after the luncheon at the Merchants' club, the visitor will be escorted by a squad of mounted police to the north side of Union square, where a stand is to be placed at his service. From it at 4 o'clock he will review the parade of 500 foot police and a mounted squad of fifty men, followed by patrol wagons and ambulances. Following the parade will come 200 white-suited street sweepers. The fire department is not expected to parade, but a false alarm of fire will be sent in and the runs made past the stand so that Li can see how the Americans move when they are in a hurry. Brooklyn will be visited on Wednesday, and after luncheon at the Union League club Li will be driven through Prospect park. He will review the Seventh regiment Wednesday night. The above is the programme so far agreed upon.

Moore Asked To Resign.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—A rumor is current that the Moore brothers, who have been prominent in connection with the bull movement collapse in Diamond Match stock and the closing of the stock exchange, would be asked to resign their position J. H. Moore, a first vice-president, and W. H. Moore, as second vice-president, to make room for P. D. Armour and George M. Putnam, the largest individual holders of Diamond Match stock.

New Bank for New Bethlehem, Pa.

Chicago Stock Exchange Still Closed.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The local stock exchange is still closed with no indication of resuming business in the near future.

Tin Plate Association Dissolved.

Pittsburg, Aug. 28.—The Tin Plate Manufacturers' association has been dissolved. The association was made up of all the tinplate manufacturers in the country except firms in the remote districts. The withdrawal recently of the American Tin Plate company of Elwood, Ind., and its fight with the Amalgamated association, which ended in defeat, are among the causes of the break.

Supreme Chancellor K. of P.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The supreme council of the Knights of Pythias has elected W. C. H. Phelps H. C. Colver, vice-chancellor.

THE CRAMPS IN LUCK

Will Win Nearly $400,000 Premium on the Brooklyn.

SHE IS A WONDERFUL CRUISER

Naval Officers Gratified with the Speed shown by Her, Although She Made No Better Showing Than Was Expected.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Naval officers are gratified with the speed shown by the Brooklyn, although she made no more than was expected of her, and in some quarters an excess of more than two knots of her contract speed was anticipated. As it is, the Cramps win nearly $400,000 premium by the performance, the allowance being $50,000 for each quarter knot or portion thereof over 20 knots. The New York, which is 1,000 tons smaller than the Brooklyn, made 21 knots, clearing $300,000 more than her contract. On the Minneapolis and Columbia the premium was at the rate of $50,000 per quarter knot, and those vessels having made respectively 20.73 and 22.51 knots, the Minneapolis won a $414,600 premium and the Columbia $350,000. The cruiser Olympia, built by the Scotts on the Pacific coast made 21.69 knots on her acceptance trial and gained a premium of $300,000.

BROOKLYN'S TRIAL TRIP.

Develops a Speed of 21 92-100 Knots and Glides Through the Water Smoothly.

Boston, Aug. 28.—The new cruiser Brooklyn on her official trial spin proved herself to be the greatest naval vessel of her class in the world by covering a distance of 83 knots in a continuous run at an average speed of 21 92-100 knots per hour. She still further showed that she is capable of greater speed than 21 92-100, by maintaining an average of 22 9-10 knots during a portion of the run. This latter speed was accomplished in the run back between the third and fourth buoys, a distance of about seven knots. She also, between the first and second buoys on the return, reached the high average of 22 48-100. In her run of 82 knots she had a boiler pressure of 160 pounds and an average of 138 revolutions a minute, with a maximum of 140 revolutions. The vessel behaved grandly. The vibration was scarcely felt by those on board at any time during the entire run, though the engines were, as a matter of course, worked to their highest tension throughout.

Those Who Were Aboard.

The official naval inspection board were Commodore Dewey, Capt. Pickens, Capt. Cook, Chief Engineer Stivers, Commander Davis, Naval Constructor Hanscom, Lieut.-Commander Wood, Lieut.-Commander Schroeder, Lieut. Stanton, Ensigns Desigigner and Skittell. The junior line and engine officers who assisted the board in taking observations were Chief Engineers Stivers, Ford, Bayley, Eaton and Edwards. Assistant Engineers Parks, Sittle, Smith, Kaemmerling, McAlpin, Theis, Leopold, Day, Herbert, Ryan, Morris and Wells. Capt. R. W. Sargent was in command of the vessel during her run, and in addition to President Charles H. Cramp and superintending engineer Edward S. Cramp, the other active representatives of the builders were chief constructing engineer N. P. Towne, chief engineers John Patterson and Nelson John and a crew of about 200, of whom at least 150 were firemen and engineers.

HAWAII'S FUTURE.

Minister Willis Said To Have Propositions To Submit to Doie.

San Francisco, Aug. 28.—The steamer Alameda, from Honolulu August 20, brings advices that Minister Willis has resumed his duties. It is rumored his recent visit to the United States was for the purpose of conferring with President Cleveland on the annexation policy. As the result of the conference it is said that Willis was empowered to enter into negotiations for either annexation, a monarchical form of government with Kaulaui on the throne, or an American protectorate, the choice of either form of government to be left to the vote of the people. Minister Willis made a formal call on the government soon after his return to the city. Nothing definite will be known regarding Willis' instructions until the return of President Doie, who is on the island of Maui at present.

Tin Plate Association Dissolved.

Pittsburg, Aug. 28.—The Tin Plate Manufacturers' association has been dissolved. The association was made up of all the tinplate manufacturers in the country except firms in the remote districts. The withdrawal recently of the American Tin Plate company of Elwood, Ind., and its fight with the Amalgamated association, which ended in defeat, are among the causes of the break.

Supreme Chancellor K. of P.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The supreme council of the Knights of Pythias has elected W. C. H. Phelps H. C. Colver, vice-chancellor.

HEIR TO A FORTUNE.

A Poor Philadelphia Widow Said To Have Fallen into Luck.

Philadelphia, Aug. 28.—A published story says Mrs. Mota Jansen, a poor widow aged 38 years, has been notified that she is a principal heir to a fortune estimated at $15,000,000. Mrs. Jansen is a descendant of Johannes Witthe, a German, who died in 1799, and who three years prior to his death left his fortune of 15,000,000 guilders in trust to the Holland government for the purpose of founding a school for orphan children. Witthe stipulated that after a century should elapse the principal should be divided among his descendants. Mrs. Jansen said to-day: "Mrs. Wilhelmina Hansen, who is one of the heirs to the estate, started to regain the money from the Holland government about fourteen years ago. Her lawyer has now won her case, and the money will be turned over to the heirs next spring. It will be divided among Mrs. Hansen, who lives in Copenhagen; Mrs. Peter Larsen, my cousin, who lives at 377 First street, Brooklyn, N. Y.; William Monk, another cousin, of 33 Nevins street, Brooklyn; Mrs. Elizabeth Moeller, my sister, of Copenhagen, and myself. If there are any other relatives to share our inheritance I do not know them." Mrs. Jansen further said that the fortune had increased from 15,000,000 guilders at the time of Witthe's death to 65,000,000 guilders—about $13,000,000.

MID-AIR PHOTOGRAPHS.

Views Taken of Boston by Cameras Supported by Kites.

Boston, Aug. 28.—The mid-air kite photographs of Boston taken by W. A. Eddy of Bayonne, N. J., were developed yesterday afternoon. Of the first twelve films seven were successful, giving distinct views at a great height of the Common, Beacon street, Commonwealth avenue, Charles river and the outlying suburbs. Mr. Eddy estimates that in one of the views the camera was at the moment of exposure fully 1,500 feet above the pavement. Of the five photographs taken Wednesday three failed owing to a defect in the camera shutter, but two good views of the central part of the city of Tremont and Washington streets were secured. Owing to light winds more than three days were required to complete the experiment. The kites used were six and seven feet in diameter, and during the experiments from four to eight of these kites were required to support the camera, depending upon the strength of the wind. The simultaneous temperature observations to be compared with those at Blue Hill observatory will be continued to-day and to-morrow.

GOLD COMING IN.

An Aggregate of $9,500,000 Now on the Way from Europe.

Washington, Aug. 28.—The treasury gold reserve at the opening of business to-day had declined to $101,339,174. Yesterday's withdrawals at New York were $99,700. The mail advices from San Francisco, which are a week late, show that the withdrawals there last week were of $400,000, and this figure has been the average withdrawal there for some time. The treasury was advised that $5,000,000 in gold had been engaged in Europe for export to the United States. This, with former engagements of gold, swells the aggregate now on the way here to $9,500,000.

More Gold on the Way Here.

London, Aug. 28.—The Bank of England has raised its minimum selling price for bar gold to 75s. 11d. per ounce. The selling price of eagles has been lowered to 76s. 7d. per ounce. More gold for America left the bank yesterday, mostly eagles. Yesterday's export of gold from the Bank of England was practically all for the United States.

ONLY SMOKING RUINS

The Sultan of Zanzibar's Palace Entirely Destroyed.

MANY OF THE INSURGENTS KILLED

Marines from the Bombarding Vessels Still Guarding All Roads Leading from the City—No Europeans or Americans Injured.

Zanzibar, Aug. 28.—Nothing but smoking ruins mark the spot where yesterday morning stood the magnificent palace of the sultan of Zanzibar. All roads and avenues of escape from the city are still guarded by detachments of British marines sent ashore from the warships which yesterday bombarded the castle. The work of taking the insurgents prisoners continues. The dead have all been gathered in and the wounded are being cared for. The usurping chieftain, Said Khalid, whose refusal to surrender and quit the palace, where he was entrenched with a strong and heavily armed band of followers, caused the British boats to open fire on the castle, is still at the German consulate, to which place he fled with the commander of his forces, Said Sales, during the bombardment and sought asylum. Foreigners Sought Safety on Warships. Many of the British residents boarded the warships lying in the harbor before the bombardment began, all of the ladies taking refuge upon the St. George, the flagship of rear admiral Harry H. Rawson, but a large number of Europeans remained on shore. Most of the rebels stood to their guns pluckily and fought well, though after the first broadside was fired from the warships a number of the defenders of the palace fled to the outskirts of the town, where many robberies were committed. Everybody on board the rebel steamer Glasgow, which was sunk by the British vessels, were rescued by boats from the bombarding ships. There were a large number among them who had been wounded. Several Indian soldiers were killed during the firing. The Thorne was hit sixty-two times and the Raccoon sixteen times by shots from the guns of the rebels.

Bombardment of the Palace.

Said Khalid had ample warning of what to expect if he did not surrender. In reply to the last message sent to the palace by Rear-Admiral Rawson informing him that only one hour more would be given him to quit the palace, he said that he and his followers would die rather than give in. About 9 o'clock the flagship signalled the Raccoon, Thrush and Sparrow to begin firing and a moment later the cruiser and the gunboats opened fire with their heavier guns, sending a storm of shot and shell into the palace. The shells tore big gaps in the palace, scattering death and confusion among its defenders. Some of the guns of Said Khalid ashore were dismantled by the shots and the gunners were put to flight. It was not long after the bombardment began when smoke was seen issuing from windows of the palace, indicating that the building had been set on fire by the shells. The British boats continued to rain shot into the castle for forty-five minutes, when it began to tumble in ruins and flames were making fast headway in the work of destruction. Efforts of the marines, who were lauded when the flagship signalled to cease firing, to check the flames, were unavailing and the once handsome structure was reduced to ruins.

Insurgent Loss Heavy.

London, Aug. 28.—Later advices from Zanzibar say the loss of Said Khalid's force was heavy, but the exact number of the killed and wounded is not known. The only casualty on the British side was the serious injuring of one seaman. No material damage was sustained by the British war vessels. Hamoud, a cousin of the late sultan, has been proclaimed successor to the sultanate.

HAMID PROCLAIMED SULTAN.

Dispatch from Consul Mohan to the State Department.

Washington, Aug. 28.—The state department has received the following cable dispatch from Consul Dorsey Mohan at Zanzibar: "Khalid bin Bargash refusing to surrender, palace was bombarded by English fleet at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and totally destroyed. Many killed. He took refuge in German consulate. Afterwards Hamid proclaimed sultan. All Americans safe." The state department has no information as to the Americans referred to in Consul Mohan's dispatch. The American aid with Zanzibar is considerable, amounting $1,000,000 annually. The United States buys from them ivory, hides, rubber, gums and cloves, and sells cotton and tinoleum. There is no anxiety lest American interests suffer.

NEW BICYCLE RECORDS.

Thirty-One Miles an Hour and 334 Miles in Twenty-Four Hours.

Not all, and perhaps not the most, of the breaking of bicycle records for this year has been accomplished by the many well-trained athletes who have turned their attention to bicycle riding; but it must have occurred to the general public that the last year records have been pretty well shattered already. Leaving out of consideration a few records which have been made upon straightaway courses under unfair conditions, the records made upon regulation tracks are remarkable.

Only a few years ago there was wonder expressed whether the time would come when a man would be able to ride a mile behind a trotter or pacer in two minutes, "even time"; but in these days a cyclist who cannot himself distance a trotter or a pacer is not in the first rank. The quarter-mile record has been cut down from 22 4-5 to 22 3-5 for a flying start, paced performance. The half-mile record has been reduced to 47 1-5, and the mile competition with flying start has gone down to 1:50 1-5, while the paced mile record has gone down to 1:39 1-5.

About two years ago it was thought wonderful when Flying Jib, with a running mate, paced the mile in 1:58 3/4, but the bicycle rider of first rank considers such time rather slow. The 50 miles trial, even with running horses changed at a mile, has not been accomplished in less than 1:50:00 3/4, has been done this year on the bicycle in 1:42:42 1/2. The 100-mile run has been made in 3:47:47 3-5 on a bicycle, while with relays of 11 horses the best record is 4:19:40, while for a trotter the best record is 8:56:01, a record that was considered phenomenal, when made.

The long-distance records for bicycles are important because of the tendency to use the bicycle in military affairs. What courier could cover 31 miles, when mounted on horseback, in less than an hour? Yet the distance has been covered in that time on a bicycle; and in 24 hours a distance of 534 miles has been accomplished. When such long distances can be covered so quickly, the formation of "bicycle batteries" may eventually revolutionize the science of military tactics, as a battalion which can travel hundreds of miles in a day is likely to be formidable in actual war.—Boston Advertiser.

He Ruled France.

The man who owned a fruit ranch in California was stopping for several days at the boarding house and the landlady was execrably polite to him.

"Tugh!" sniffed the lady boarder with banded hair, "I guess she must be making love to him."

"Naw, she ain't," retorted the man boarder with red whiskers.

"Why not? Just look at her. He can't express a wish that she doesn't fairly break her neck to gratify."

"That's no sign of a duck's nest," insisted the red whiskers.

"I'd like to know what you call a sign, then?" and the lady boarder swished herself around in a pet.

"You wouldn't know if I told you," grinned the red whiskers. "There's a bond of sympathy you ain't on to. He raises prunes for the eastern market."

LEWIS GEORGE CLARK.

The Prototype of a Character in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe Befriended Him, and in Return Secured Important Facts for Her Great Book.

Harriet Beecher Stowe's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" opens with the sentence: "In the quiet little town of P—," "P—" means Paint Lick, in Garrard county, Ky. "Uncle Tom's Cabin" first appeared 45 years ago as a serial in the National Era of Washington. Mrs. Stowe saw fit then to call Paint Lick a "quiet little town." It is so to-day, and only the slightest changes have been made in it since the story was written.

Lewis George Clark, the prototype of "George Harris," the most prominent figure in the novel, was owned by Gen. Thomas Kennedy, Garrard county's first representative in the general assembly of Kentucky. He first belonged to John Banton, who was a party to the famous Banton counterfeiting plot.

Banton's detection led to the sale of young Clark to Gen. Kennedy, then the wealthiest man in the Blue Grass section of Kentucky, and a large dealer in race horses and slaves. When Gen. Kennedy died he bequeathed 100 slaves to his son, Thomas Kennedy, Jr. Among them was Clark. A house boy, Norman Kennedy, was given to Robert Argo, and he still lives to tell of "George Harris," "Uncle Tom," and other characters in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

A New York World correspondent visited the old Kentucky homestead, yet a comfortable residence, and found old Norman working in the garden at the Argo place, which he has never left, though freed more than a score and a half of years ago.

Norman is a midget. He is 95 years old, only three feet and nine inches tall, and weighs less than 60 pounds.

When Gen. Kennedy had a stable of running horses Norman was brought to ride for him, but his legs were so short he couldn't stay in the saddle, and fell off in more than one race. The old man remembers Clark well, for he had slept and worked with him. When young Clark was a weaver, knitter and sewer, and cooked well. Because of these accomplishments he was not sent to work in the field during Gen. Kennedy's life and Norman Kennedy, being house boy, got intimately acquainted with the hero of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Young Tom Kennedy did not long survive his father, and Clark was again about to be put up at auction with the other negroes when he determined to gain his liberty, whatever the cost, informing Norman that he could soon bleach himself from the mulatto that he was to a fairly white man. He began to wear gloves and a big hat to work in order to avoid sunburn, and in a few months he escaped by stealing a mule. He went north.

His wife Maggie (the Eliza of the novel) was left behind, but soon ran off to Louisville. Mrs. Stowe's description of "Eliza's" (or Maggie's) escape across the drifting ice of the Ohio river from Kentucky to Ohio and freedom is very dramatic, but old Uncle Norman Kennedy says Maggie really secreted herself in the Falls City until Clark's return from Ohio, when she joined him and the two went peacefully and unpursued up the Ohio river on a steamboat to Cincinnati. Eliza was an octoroon, won by Gen. Kennedy on a horse race in Indian territory.

Clark found work in Cincinnati and remained there until he went north and later to Cambridge, Mass., where he was given employment by Mrs. A. H. Safford, a daughter of Lyman Beecher, father of Mrs. Stowe. Although Mrs. Stowe (then Miss Beecher) was teaching at Lane seminary, in Cincinnati, while Clark was in the city, she never met or heard of him there, as is the popular belief. It was at Mrs. Safford's home in Cambridge that Mrs. Stowe first saw George Lewis Clark. She became interested in his narrative of his experiences, and from him got the story of the characters in "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Old Norman denies the allegation that Gen. Kennedy was cruel to his slaves. The "Little Eva" of the book still lives. She is now a grandmother and her son-in-law is one of the leading democrats of Kentucky.

Sparrows' Choice in Colors.

It has recently been discovered that sparrows have a particular dislike to certain colors, such as purple and blue. A correspondent in Nature states that some caged sparrows that he had would not touch their food if he put strips of blue paper upon it; that they manifested a discourteous dislike to ladies who came into the room wearing blue dresses, and that several of them were cured of the vice of pecking at a certain part of the wall they had access to by plastering a piece of blue paper over it. As sparrows are grain-consuming birds, here is a suggestion for farmers.

Gills in the Gills of Fish.

The gills of a freshly-caught fish are red. The gills of a fish that is not freshly caught are paler in color, or of a dark purple. Dealers sometimes put fresh beef blood on the gills of fish to give them an appearance of freshness.

"Washing made graceful."

(After a sketch in New York Truth.)

We want to show it, because this seems to be a woman who uses Pearline (use with-out soap). She's doing no work to speak of, you see—she doesn't look as if she ever had to. She appears to be rinsing out the clothes, after letting them soak in Pearline (use with-out soap) and water, which is about all the labor required.

The washboard we don't understand—unless she's washing it. Women who use Pearline (use with-out soap) don't need a washboard. They don't have that tiresome, wearing rubbing over it. But for cleaning washboards or wood work or paint or anything of the kind, then they want Pearline.

Washing can't be made graceful unless it is made easy. Of all the ways of washing that are perfectly harmless, the easiest, quickest, most economical, is with Pearline.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, which you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Your boy won't live a month.

So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 31 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and he spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying: "Your boy won't live a month." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles restored him to health, and enabled him to go to work as a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for lung trouble. Trial bottles free at McMonagle & Rogers' Drug Store.

MIDDLETOWN ALIVE.

To the Good of Its People and Glad to Be So.

When you know a good thing tell it. It will not lessen its goodness. But will do good to others. If you've been cured tell it. There's more misery just like it. Waiting to find out how. There are lots of lame backs in Middletown. It's a busy place and backs are used. There's urinary trouble to a large extent. Ever notice how many people over forty complain? Seven out of ten say colds affect their kidneys. The kidneys are the cause; not the colds. Keep them in shape and life is life. You can do it easily and pleasantly. No nauseating disturbances. No effect except on the kidneys. But that effect is quick and permanent. Doan's Kidney Pills do perfect work. Middletown is full of their praises. Read this statement and you will be obliged to confess that our city is alive to the good of its people. Mr. C. H. Coleman, proprietor of the Columbus Hotel, has a worthy helpmate in his better half and the couple have pushed the "Columbus" in a very short time to the front rank of its class. The genial and business like hostess says: "Kidney disease runs in our family. I have been troubled for the past six years myself but the greater quantity of Doan's Kidney Pills I bought at J. E. Mills' drug store were for my mother and one of my brothers. Backache so severe I could not stand it; too stubborn to be affected by plasters, home remedies, or physicians' prescriptions clung to me most of the time. I have left my bed late at night and gone to a doctor begging him for relief. I could not wait until he was sent for. Urinary trouble set in. The deposit alarmed me. My general health was impaired and I considered myself lucky in being induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills. It was only a few days when I got relief and in six or seven more my trouble had disappeared. When they came so promptly I immediately sent some to my mother who lives at Glenwild, Sullivan county. Her farm of 365 acres adjoins the Sullivan County Club house. The first box I sent her did her so much good that she made me send her some more. I have sent some to my sister who has the same symptoms as I, but at present I cannot speak positively about her or my brother. I can about Doan's Kidney Pills. No words of mine can exceed my opinion. They are easy to take, leave no disagreeable effect and go right for the kidneys." Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box or 6 boxes for $2.50. A Cream Soup.

Which has for its foundation a good stock and boiled or scalded milk is easy to digest. Even simply thickened milk makes an excellent spring soup, because it is stimulating and soothing, without in the least burdening the digestive powers. This preparation in France often takes the place of a soup. It should be a perfect cream, just thick enough to coat the spoon dipped in it. Mix two tablespoonfuls of the best pastry flour with a pint of milk, adding the milk slowly to prevent lumps. Stir in another pint of milk. Pour the whole into a Puritan Loffer, and when the water boils in the outer kettle stir the thickened milk for ten minutes. Season it with salt. Some cooks also add a dessertspoonful of sugar. This soup may be made heavier by adding a "liaison" of the yolks of two eggs beaten with half a cup of milk and stirred into the thickened milk by degrees. Do not let the soup cook any longer, but add a tablespoonful of butter, stir well and pour it at once into the tureen over a cupful of little squares of toasted bread.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

He Made Friends in the Forest with the Life Around Him.

The mice which haunted my house were not the common ones which are said to have been introduced into the country, but a wild native kind not found in the village. I sent one to a distinguished naturalist, and it interested him very much. When I was building, one of these had its nest underneath the house, and before I had laid the second floor and swept out the shavings would come out regularly at lunch time and pick up the crumbs at my feet. It probably had never seen a man before; and it soon became quite familiar and would run over my shoes and up my clothes. It could readily ascend the sides of the room by short impulses, like a squirrel, which it resembled in its motions.

At length, as I leaned, with my elbow on the bench one day, it ran up my clothes, and along my sleeve, and round and around the paper which held my dinner, while I kept the latter close and dodged and played at bo-peep with it; and when at last I held still a piece of cheese between my thumb and finger, it came and nibbled it, sitting in my hand, and afterward cleaned its face and paws like a fly, and walked away.

A phoebe soon built in my shed, and a robin for protection in a pine which grew against the house. In June the partridge, which is so shy a bird, led her brood past my windows from the woods in the rear to the front of my house, clucking and calling to them like a hen, and in all her behavior proving herself the hen of the woods. The young suddenly disperse on your approach at a signal from the mother, as if a whirlwind has swept them away, and they so exactly resemble the dried leaves and twigs that many a traveler has placed his foot in the midst of a brood and heard the whirr of the old bird as she flew off, and her anxious call and mewling, or seen her trail her wings to attract his attention, without suspecting their neighborhood. The parent will sometimes roll and spin round before you in such a dizziness that you cannot for a few moments detect what kind of a creature it is.

The young squat still and flat, often running their heads under a leaf and mind only their mother's directions given from a distance, nor will your approach make them run again and betray themselves. I have held them in my open hand, and still their only care, obedient to their mother and their instinct, was to squat there without fear or trembling. So perfect is this instinct that once, when I laid them on the leaves again, and one accidentally fell on its side, it was found with the rest in exactly the same position ten minutes afterward. The remarkable adult, yet innocent, expression of their open and serene eyes is very memorable. All intelligence seems reflected in them. They suggest not merely the purity of infancy, but a wisdom clarified by experience. Such an eye was not born when the bird was, but is coeval with the sky it reflects. The woods do not yield another such gem.—Thoreau's Life.

By order City Committee.

Chairman Jones is to appoint an advisory committee of free silver Republicans who will assist the Democratic committee in conducting the campaign. This is a wise move, for such a committee can render most efficient service in the West where in many states the silver issue has disrupted the Republican party.

The Advertiser minutely admits that there is a "difference in sentiment and a lack of cordiality and sympathy between the officers and members" of the Warwick Republican Club. The trouble, it thinks, is due to the fact that some prominent members of the organization are in arrears to fight Tom Platt than they are to fight Democrats, and as becomes a loyal organ of the machine it rebukes them for their hostility to a man "conspicuous for his loyal efforts for his party."

The Herald quotes a Washington official, who recently visited President Cleveland at Buzzards' Bay, as saying that Mr. Cleveland will soon send out one of the strongest letters he ever penned, "which will fall heavily on silver Democrats and will tend to divide the Democratic party." It is to be hoped the President's purpose is misstated. To seek to divide his party is sorry business for a Democratic president and a poor return for the great honors he has received at his party's hands.

There has been some talk among the more extreme gold Democrats of running an independent State ticket, if the Democratic State Convention shall endorse Bryan and Sewall or put a word in its platform that looks like favoring silver. Most of the gold Democrats of this State have been thick and thin adherents of Mr. Cleveland and twice within the last ten years have voted for him. Therefore, according to Black, the Republican candidate for Governor, they are "beyond prayers." They should remember this insult before they allow anger at the course of their own party to lead them into giving indirect support to a bigoted and indecent partisan by means of a third ticket.

ENTHUSIASTIC JERSEY DEMOCRATS

A Big Meeting in Sussex County at Which Dr. Gilson Spoke.

A big Democratic meeting was held at Centreville, Sandyston township, Sussex county, Wednesday evening. People came in from all the neighboring places and from the country roundabout for miles and about 1,000 were gathered in the audience. Two brass bands furnished music.

The meeting was presided over by Hon. W. J. Van Sickle, of Sandyston, who made a brief speech and then introduced Dr. T. S. Gilson, of this city, who delivered a strong address.

The doctor was followed by B. F. Van Sickle, of this city, a son of the chairman, who made a short, but most excellent speech.

There was great enthusiasm manifested, the speaking being heartily applauded at every telling point. The sentiment of free coinage and the election of the opponent of money syndicates and trusts, Wm. J. Bryan is very strong in that locality.

MARINE MONSTERS IN THE HUDSON

Two Big Fish, Sea Serpents or Whales Excite River Boatmen.

Hudson River boatmen are excited over the appearance of two monsters, whether fish or sea serpent, in one can tell. They were seen by Capt. Maxwell, of the steamer Lotta, near Coeyman's, Thursday.

On the up trip he saw one and thinking it an up turned boat, headed the vessel for it and when near saw it was a fish of some kind nearly white, apparently about thirty feet long and as big around as a barrel. A large fin protruded from its back but he could not see its head. On the return trip two of the fish were seen by the captain and several passengers. They are believed by some to be white whales, that have strayed out of deep water.

A BLOODLESS BATTLE.

Frantic Efforts of Two Men Who Wanted to Fight to Keep Out of Each Other's Way.

There was considerable excitement in the southeastern part of this city, about noon, to-day, when two men, both of whom have been laid up for some time with injuries sustained at the same time and place, in an accident, engaged in a fight, or rather an attempt to avoid a fight. Their efforts to keep out of each other's way was misinterpreted by several lady friends of the parties and their screams drew a crowd of neighbors, who were greatly amused after they saw plainly it would be a bloodless battle.

BRYAN'S VIEWS ON MUD-SLINGING

From the Albany Argus.

Mr. Bryan has a happy faculty of disarming virulent criticism. He won't talk back and the most exasperating man in the world to contend with is the man that keeps his temper. In one of his inimitable little speeches Mr. Bryan summed up his creed on the subject of mud-slinging thus: "We do not wish to call anybody hard names. When I refer to our opponents as gold bugs I do it with the same good feeling as they manifest when they call me a lunatic."

BRYAN'S THE BETTER WAY.

From the Brooklyn Citizen.

There is a veiled effort to ridicule the Boy Orator because he spoke at Upper Red Hook from a barrel. The difference is, though, that McKinley lets the "barrel" do the talking.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents and $1.00 per bottle at McMonagle & Rogers' Drug Store.

A Word or Two to those suffering from catarrh or the thousands subject to severe attacks of cold in the head, will not be amiss if a sure remedy can be offered. Ely's Cream Balm has become a favorite in all sections of the United States, because of its effectiveness. Your cold in the head will be quickly relieved by it, and the severest attack of catarrh will yield to, and be perfectly cured by a thorough treatment. Catarrh is not a blood disease, but an inflammation of the passages of the nose and throat, due to climatic changes.

HORTON FAMILY PICNIC.

A Pleasant Reunion of the Descendants of Micah Horton Held at the Homestead, Near Westtown.

The Horton family picnic held at the old Horton homestead, near Westtown, yesterday, was well attended, about seventy people being present. No attempt had been made to secure the presence of any of the Horton family, beyond those in Orange county, who nearly all are the descendants of Benjamin Horton, who resided on the homestead, where the picnic was held, until his death, which occurred in 1867.

Four of his children, C. W. Horton, Goshen, H. R. Horton, Johnson; H. C. Horton, Goshen, and Mrs. M. E. Andrews, Goshen, were able to be present, yesterday, and the others were grand children and great-grandchildren.

Barnabas Horton, the progenitor of the family in Orange county, came from Leicestershire, England, in 1633, and first settled in Southold, Long Island, where he died. Micah Horton, a descendant of his, came from Long Island to Orange county about a hundred years later, settling in the town of Munsink on a tract of land of which the farm of the late Benjamin Horton formed a part.

The day was most pleasantly spent by the descendants of these worthy people of by-gone generations in re-creating family and social ties. A fine collation was spread from many well filled baskets, to which all did ample justice.

Just before the picnicers dispersed to their homes the following officers were elected for the year: President, H. C. Horton, Goshen; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. C. W. Horton, Goshen; Miss M. E. Horton, Westtown; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. M. E. Andrews, Goshen.

The annual reunion of the family is held on the last Thursday in August in each year.

NEW ERIE MILEAGE BOOKS.

Good for Families and Firms. But in New York State Only.

The Erie Company will put on sale at its different ticket offices, Sept. 1st, a new form of mileage books of the one thousand mile variety. It will differ from the ones which are now on sale, as this new form will be good only for travel in the State of New York, and will not be good for any destination where the Erie enters wholly or partially any other State. The tickets will be good for families or firms, but will not be accepted on the trains for transportation. Passengers will be required to present their books at the ticket offices, where they will receive a ticket for a stated number of coupons taken from the book for any given point. The other form of books known as the "individual" mileage books will remain entirely distinct and separate.

SEEKING MRS. BEECHER.

Reporters flock to West Cornwall, N. Y., When They Should Have Gone to Connecticut.

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher was eighty-four years old Wednesday, and spent the day quietly at the home of her son-in-law, Rev. Samuel Scoville, at West Cornwall, Conn. Many of the New York papers, anxious to secure interviews with the old lady, sent out reporters to talk to her, and with one or two exceptions they went to West Cornwall in this country and created a great commotion in that quiet hamlet by their vain quest for the widow of Brooklyn's great preacher.

Trying to Keep Tramps Out of Port Jervis.

The Chief of Police of Port Jervis has adopted a plan to keep tramps out of the village limits, the police officers having their instructions to apprehend all suspicious looking characters and if they can not give a good account of themselves to warn them to leave town under pain of arrest. The plan has not yet been in operation long enough to know if it will be effective.

Did a Tramp Perish in the Meadowbrook Fire?

Bones, which are believed to be those of a human being, have been found in the ruins of the Meadowbrook farm barn, which was burned last week, and Coroner Perrott, of Newburgh, went to the scene, to-day, to investigate the matter. No one from the vicinity is missing and if the bones are those of a man they are doubtless those of a tramp.

She was stunned and rendered partially unconscious and was taken to the hotel where she soon revived and was brought home in a carriage procured by her escort. She was not seriously hurt.

All of the parties were more or less bruised and both wagons were wrecked. A young man from this city, who happened to be a short distance behind the young couple, rendered them valuable assistance.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Last Band Concert—Little Interest in Politics—Smashed His Fingers—A Queer Combination—Home from Their Vacations.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—The last band concert of the season was given, last night, and there was a large attendance from Middletown and other places. The concert was a fine one.

—If there is any interest taken in politics in this village it does not show on the surface, for beyond a few heated discussions of the currency question there are no signs that a presidential campaign is under way. As compared with other presidential years, when things have been hot from the time nominations were made, this is an off year indeed.

—Herman, son of Fred Srack, had two of his fingers smashed, yesterday, by catching them in Sperling's ice cream freezer.

—Among the conspicuous people at the band concert, last night, was a young man who wore white duck trousers and an overcoat, a queer combination.

—Miss Voorhees' studio will reopen Sept. 16.

—Gus White, of this village, at the sale of county fair privileges in Newburgh, yesterday, paid $30 for the right to give his Punch and Judy exhibition on the grounds.

Funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Canfield.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Canfield was held Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at the residence of her son-in-law, James A. Norris, near Slate Hill, and was largely attended. The services were in charge of Rev. Theron Brittain, assisted by Rev. Mr. Van Housen and Rev. O. P. Crandall. The text was from Eccl. xiii: "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth." The choir of the Ridgebury Presbyterian Church was present and sang three hymns. The pall bearers were E. McBride, F. Clark, A. Sargent, J. Werry, C. E. Clark, C. Kuapp.

A Canvass of Goshen Jail.

Of the thirty-six prisoners in the county jail at Goshen, the Times correspondent says thirty have declared for McKinley as their choice for President and six for Bryan, and thirty-two of the thirty-six are "gold bugs," while the other four would be satisfied with money of any kind. The Times correspondent seems to regard this as an item of political interest, and says they will all be out in time to vote.

Well Preserved Apples.

S. Albert Bull, of Bull & Youngblood, visited Joseph Wilkin, at Sands' Station, yesterday, and brought home with him samples of apples grown by Mr. Wilkin in 1895. They are of the russet variety and are perfectly sound. They had no special care, but were kept in an ordinary cellar. Mr. Wilkin had about a peck left from his winter's supply.

INGRAM'S MUMMY.

A Story That Is a Decidedly Weird and Perfectly True One.

I must digress for a moment to tell the weird, extraordinary story of the ultimate fate of Herbert Ingram, Lord Charles Beresford's most brilliant and dashing volunteer, says the Strand Magazine. In the first place, Lord Charles outlined the story for me and Sir William Ingram very kindly filled in the details of his brother's tragic death. So Leen was Mr Ingram's interest in the Gordon relief expedition that he actually took his own steam launch out to Egypt to join the expeditionary forces.

As a kind of souvenir of his adventures in Egypt and the Sudan, Mr Ingram at length bought a mummy for £60 from the English consul at Luxor. The mummy was that of a priest of Isis, and it bore a mysterious inscription. After obtaining, at Cairo, the necessary permits, Ingram sent the mummy home in a big case, which was opened by his brothers at the office of the Illustrated London News. Over the face was a papier mache mask, which is now deposited in the British Museum. The last named institution was asked to send along an expert to decipher and translate the inscription, which was long and blood-curdling. It set forth that whoever disturbed the body of this priest should himself be deprived of a decent burial, he would meet with a violent death and his mangled remains would be "carried down by a rush of waters to the sea." This is the first part of a fascinating romance of real life.

Some time after sending the mummy home Mr Ingram and Sir Henry Meux were elephant-shooting in Somaliland when one day the natives brought in a great chunk of dried earth, saying it was the spoor of the biggest elephant in the world. The temptation was too much for the two sportsmen, so they hunted up that herd. "I've left my elephant-gun behind," cried Sir Henry, in dismay. "Take mine," said Ingram, generously leaving himself with a comparatively impotent smallbore.

When they sighted the elephants Sir Henry went after a bull and Mr Ingram turned his attention to an enormous cow. His method was to turn round in his saddle, fire a shot and then gallop his pony on ahead, dodging the infuriated elephant among the trees. At last, looking back for another shot, he was swept out of his saddle by the drooping bough of a tree. The moment he reached the ground the wounded elephant was upon him, goring and trampling him to death, notwithstanding the heroism of his Somali servant, who poured a charge of shot right into the monster's ear.

For days the elephant would not let anyone approach the spot, but eventually Mr Ingram's remains were reverently gathered up and buried for the time being in a nallah or ravine. Never again was the body seen, for when an expedition was afterward dispatched to the spot, only one sock and part of the human bone were found, these pitiful relics were subsequently interred at Aden with military honors. It was found that the floods caused by heavy rains had washed away Mr Ingram's remains, thereby fulfilling the ancient prophecy—the awful threat of the priest of Thebes. The mummy is now in the possession of Lady Meux, and Sir Henry has the tusks of the elephant.

AN EARLY START.

Another Marvel Connected with the Bicycle.

An uptown citizen was awakened very early on a recent morning by a chorus of musical voices. He arose and went to the window. Dimly in the shadowy dawn he saw a half-dozen glistening forms grouped before the house next door. There was a wheel beside each and he comprehended that this meant an early outing. As he discreetly ducked back his head a shower of gravel struck the nearest window of the next door.

"Mabel, oh, Mabel!" sung out a shrill soprano.

"Hush, you'll wake the neighborhood," murmured a warning voice.

"Something ought to wake it up once in awhile," said another voice.

"Who lives next door?" This in a loud whisper.

"Mr. Crummins."

"The man at the window ducked back again."

"Let's serenade him."

"Guess not. He'd throw bootjacks at us."

"Maybe he'd go along if we asked him."

"Wild chorus of giggles."

"Not much. He loves his pillow too well."

"Then the shrill voice rose again."

"Mabel, oh, Mabel!"

"Then an alto note descended from the window."

"Say, girls, keep still. You'll wake papa. Just wait a minute—mamma is going with us."

A few minutes later there was the sound of footsteps in the gravel driveway and a more shadowy form joined the group. There were hurried greetings and then an older voice asked:

"Where do we go?"

"To Willoughby, don't we, Marie?"

There were more giggles and a little scramble of feet on the roadway and then the party beelined down the street into the deepest shadows.

Mr. Crummins came away from the window and sought his pillow again.

When he stepped out of the house—it might have been eight o'clock—he looked up at his neighbor's shaded porch as he passed and there sat his neighbor's wife and her neighbor's daughter in dainty white gowns, looking as cool and restful as if 30-mile morning rigles were never heard of.

Mr. Crummins stared a little as he bowed to the ladies. The idea of 4 o'clock them there came like a mild shock after the dialogue in the early dawn.

THE GYPSY ENCAMPMENT.

A Novel, Pleasing and Very Successful Entertainment—A Show Well Realized.

The Gypsy Encampment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Smiley, last evening, proved to be a great success as was predicted.

The lawn was lighted by a large number of Japanese lanterns and dotted by a dozen tents, where the gypsies were found ready to supply all with their wares. To describe the various decorations would take too much space, but it is sufficient to say that all were beautifully arranged. The ladies looked very attractive in their brightly colored suits and wavy, indeed, was the youth who did not succumb to their charms.

The entertainment, which was given in the spacious parlors, was of a high order. The programme was as follows:

1. Bass Solo—B. D. Finkenberg
2. Readings—Europe in Gloom—M. K. T. Wain
3. Contralto Solo—Daddy
4. Soprano Solo—The Gypsy
5. Vocal Duets—Blossoms of Night

The numbers were well rendered and were appreciated by the large audience.

Among the attractions none was more popular than the tent of the fortune teller, where a noted palmist told the eager ones about their future.

The vendors of ice-cold lemonade finding that the weather was not on their side, grasped the situation and in a trice hot lemonade was for sale and the vendors came in rapidly. The Baptist Church organ fund receives a substantial addition as the result of last night's successful event.

DEATH OF HARRY HILL

A Frequent Visitor in Middletown in Former Years—His Hump-backed Colt "Curiosity."

Harry Hill, who for years was a unique character in the sporting world and whose variety theatre was one of the widely known sights of New York, died, last evening at Corona, L. I. He was at one time worth nearly $1,000,000, but died in poverty. In his palmy days he was a frequent visitor in Middletown, having been a warm personal friend of Jack H. Ham and St. H. Holding. One of his visits here he bought of Dunk Brown a hump-backed colt, which took his fancy because of its odd appearance. He named the animal "Curiosity" and had it trained until it developed considerable speed. He drove the misshapen animal on the Harlem road for several years and it became a familiar object there and on the race tracks in the vicinity of New York, where it was frequently entered in trotting contests, not so much with a view to its winning as to keep its owner in the public eye.

Gale, of Mechanicville, Wednesday evening, had been seen in that village about 3 o'clock, yesterday morning. The animal was driven by two men and from its condition had evidently been driven a long distance at a very rapid pace.

The men drove toward Greenwood Lake.

SPORT AT THE CAMPBELL TRACK

Trying to Arrange for Circuit Races in September.

A number of local horsemen visited the Campbell track, this morning, to watch their horses being worked out. The two days meeting to be given by the Middleown Driving Park and Horse Fair Association in September serves to keep up the interest in training and there are several promising youngsters which will probably be started at that time.

An effort is being made to have a circuit meeting of two days each at Campbell Middletown, Port Jervis and Goshen at the time of the Middletown races.

An Aged Couple Bound and Robbed.

Five masked burglars forced open the front door of the bridge house at Hancock Tuesday night, and while one of the party kept the aged gate keeper, David Pulver, in bed at the point of a revolver, others went up stairs and bound Mrs. Pulver with a sheet which they tore in strips. They then ransacked the house, stealing $40 in money, two watches, two revolvers, a box of cigars and many small articles. The thieves are supposed to be tramps, but the authorities have no clue to their identity.

A WOMAN'S STORY.

It Should Be of Interest to Every Thinking Woman.

Women who reason well know that no male physician can understandingly treat the complaint known as "female diseases," for no man ever experienced them.

This, Lydia E. Pinkham taught them twenty years ago, when she discovered in her Vegetable Compound the only successful cure for all those ailments peculiar to the sex. Many women have a fatal faith in their physician, and not till they can suffer no longer, will they think and act for themselves.

The following testimony is straight to the point, and represents the experience of hundreds of thousands of now grateful women. "For six years I was a great sufferer from those internal weaknesses so prevalent among our sex. After having received treatment from four physicians of our city, and finding no relief whatever, I concluded to try Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has proved a boon to me. It can truly be called a 'Saviour of Women.'"—MRS. B. A. PERHAM, Waynesboro, Pa.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.
